National Association of Church Design Builders Featured at Conference

NACDB to exhibit and conduct workshops at annual Worship Facilities Conference and Expo

ARLINGTON, Texas – Aug. 18, 2008 – Five prominent members of the National Association of Church Design Builders (NACDB) will lead workshops at the Worship Facilities Conference and Expo (WFX) Nov. 5 - 7 in Houston.

WFX is expected to attract thousands of church and industry leaders seeking the latest information on the design and construction of churches, synagogues and other worship facilities.

Featured NACDB Speakers Include:

- Bob Adams, director of business development and marketing for JH Batten, Inc., a North Carolina-based design/build firm, will discuss how to effectively organize, train and maintain a church building team in his session “Building the Team BEFORE You Build the Building.” Adams will also discuss “Developing a Creation Care Audit for Your Church,” and a session on “Green Church Issues.”
- Victor F. Erwin, vice president for the Church Division of G. L. Barron Company based in Fort Worth, Texas will present “Everything Speaks.” The workshop will discuss the importance of first impressions and what your facility might be saying about your church.
- Gil Jones, vice president for Resource Services, Inc. (RSI) based in Dallas will provide tips on “How to Create a Stewardship Culture for Generation ‘Why’.” The workshop will detail ways to reach a younger generation and create a stewardship culture by encouraging them to become part of the team and take ownership of the church's vision.
- Mark MacDonald, president of PinPoint Creative Group LLC based in Winston-Salem, N.C. will present “The 60-Minute Church Website Makeover;” a how-to guide for refurbishing, renovating or rebuilding your web site.
- Scott Rolfs, managing director of Milwaukee-based Ziegler Capital Markets Group will present “Tight Credit Markets: How to Get Your Project Financed,” helping to explain complex financial instruments.
